Letter of support for World Wide Views on Global Warming

CARE Danmark is committed to support the World Wide Views on Global Warming project and has met with project staff to discuss ways of cooperation.

CARE Danmark strongly supports the purpose of the project of gathering and reinforcing the 'voice' of ordinary citizens in countries across the globe with a view to influencing the climate change negotiations. The project includes some of the poorest countries of the world that CARE works in. Such countries are rarely heard in international negotiations – least of all their populations. The World Wide Views on Global Warming project can help build a global constituency behind a comprehensive and effective agreement on climate change mitigation at the COP15 summit in Copenhagen in late 2009.

CARE Danmark is directly supporting the World Wide Views on Global Warming in identifying local partners in a range of developing countries, where CARE has a presence.
